

A NEW MESSAGE TO WANDERERS AND LIGHT WORKERS ABOUT YOUR MISSION AND SITUATION TODAY

(Excerpt from a CAC reading June 18, 2010)

Questioner: Does Awareness have an opening message or any events It would like to discuss please?

Cosmic Awareness:

This Awareness is prepared to talk about matters concerning the Light Workers, and the Wanderers, those evolved beings who have chosen to incarnate at this time in service to the Divine and humanity, as well as Mother Earth. There are questions that the Energizer has to present to this Awareness that will formulate the comments that this Awareness has today. Therefore, rather than a long Opening Message this Awareness is now prepared to move into the material that the Energizer has to present and the questions that will come from that.

WHAT TO DO WHEN YOU CAN'T PASS YOUR SPIRITUAL INFORMATION ON TO OTHERS

Questioner: Thank you) .Several e-mail comments from various members are offered for your higher perspective please. The first one, "The lack of like-minded people available to discuss concepts and the non-receptiveness to any observations and/or remarks offered is prevalent. Is there anything that can be done about this?"

Cosmic Awareness: This is curiously indicative of one who is from a higher state of consciousness, one who has entered into physicality not only with the intent and purpose of forwarding one's own soul growth and development but who is also here to assist humanity at this time as it seeks to evolve in consciousness, in order to move forward in a quantum leap to more evolved levels of consciousness. In this is also the intent and purpose of assisting both Mother Earth and the Divine at the same time; the assistance is being rendered to mankind, humankind. Those advanced souls who are having such difficulties are those that this Awareness has called in the past the Wanderers, although they are also known by other names, such as Light Workers, and Servants of Spirit.

Separated from like-minded people

Many Light Workers Work in Complete Isolation

The truth of the matter is that these evolved souls, these beings that have chosen spiritual incarnation have often also done so at the expense of community. This Awareness is referring to the fact that often those who are of that high level of spiritual awareness do not readily have around them those of like-mind and like-spirit, and therefore are often working in complete isolation. This can create a heavy toll, for that sense of being separated from others of like-mind can be very difficult to those having this experience, and yet ironically, as this Awareness has indicated, the fact that they are having such an experience of extreme isolation is indicative of an advanced soul who has volunteered to be of service at this great and spectacular time.

Part of the process that needs to occur is to remember one's purpose and to remember why one has chosen this more extreme situation, because it is a situation that is very wearisome for those individuals who are in this position. While this Awareness has said to individuals as well as to the membership in the past that it behooves one to seek out spiritual contact with others of like-mind and like-spirit, this Awareness also recognizes and acknowledges that this is sometimes very difficult to do, for the ratio of those who have obligated themselves to be of spirit at such a high level is an extremely high ratio. In other words, this Awareness is saying that for each Wanderer who has chosen incarnation there may be several million entities around who have not.

Many members of C.A.C. feel extreme isolation

The ratio has been given in the past that 20% of the populace has awakened, and this Awareness has recently stated it is now 30%, but the point is that of the 30%, which still represents a minority, there is even a lesser amount of those who are highly conscious. Therefore, even within the 30% of those who are spiritually awakening and evolving there is but a handful, relatively speaking, of those who come from even higher levels of consciousness. They are the ones, often many of them being members of the organization of CAC, who feel the most extreme isolation, for even amongst those who may be spiritually evolving, the conscious perceptions that these individuals have, the awareness and understanding may not always be shared by those who themselves are starting to awaken or are on a slightly different track than those who would be what this Awareness calls the Wanderers.

Trying to share Awareness Info with Family or friends is not always met with enthusiasm

Indeed, the problem is so extreme for those who experience this isolation that it is often that which leads to despair and depression. Many of the members of Cosmic Awareness Communications have even had the experience of trying to share the materials of CAC with others, sharing newsletters with families and friends or even those who are spiritually aware, only to find that there is no interest from those others. This is because the information that Cosmic Awareness presents and the energy that It represents are of the highest nature. Those who themselves come from that high level of conscious awareness are naturally drawn to the materials of this Awareness, and it is for this reason that they believe others who are also spiritual seekers will naturally be inclined themselves. But there is a gradient of consciousness involved even amongst the spiritual seekers, so that those who are at the higher levels do not necessarily find those that are of the same level, for they are few and far between, and it is for this reason why often when one tries to share the materials of this Awareness, they are not always received with enthusiasm or even interest.

This is not an ego matter: It's a fact YOU are who you are

This Awareness says not to despair over this matter, but to recognize it as an indicator of one's own state of consciousness. This is not an ego matter. This Awareness is not saying that the members of CAC are better than or more evolved than anyone else. It is simply a matter of fact that there are different gradients of consciousness, everything from the highly placed Avatars who walk the earth, to those who are at the lowest level of consciousness, barely awake consciously, and each has its own reason and purpose, and to be one of a higher evolved spiritual consciousness simply means that they have made choices to come into the planet's energies and into human consciousness to assist in the evolution of consciousness, especially at this most critical of times.

The good news: More and more are opening up to you

The good news is that with the accelerating consciousness that is now occurring on the planet, those who have so often experienced a rejection of their concepts, their beliefs, their understandings and their knowing will begin to find more and more are opening up now and are starting to be attracted, and are starting to ask the questions that will move them forward in their own spiritual consciousness. Those who feel the strongest sense of isolation must always remember first and foremost that it was a choice to be a storm trooper for spiritual evolution in the first place, and by choosing this before entering into life, an opinion, an understanding was held by the being that they were prepared to do this work, knowing even before entering that it would be very lonely and isolated work.

Light Workers: the Beacons of Consciousness

With the accelerating consciousness that is occurring at this stage, those who have so long felt this isolation will start to see others attracted to them, because in a manner of speaking, they have always been beacons in the dark, isolated perhaps, but always shining in the dark, and many are now starting to see in the dark and are being attracted to the Lights, the beacons of consciousness that the Light Workers and the Wanderers represent. Therefore, be patient and know that these times are rapidly changing, consciousness is opening, and many are starting to awaken, starting to ask questions and at this most crucial time when that sense of isolation is at the greatest level, the greatest understanding and patience must now be shown.

This Awareness suggests to continue to reach out to others of like-mind and like-spirit and in that reaching out, do not lose hope that there are others out there, others who are starting to be attracted to the Lights in the dark, those Lights represented by the Wanderers and the Light Workers. You are out there, and you are known by this Awareness and by Spirit, and you are supported and energized from sources deeper than the physical experience, and these times, as challenging as they are, are also times of great hope and promise.

You have chosen to be of service in the shift of consciousness now unfolding in a way that has never been seen before

The purpose that those who have chosen to be born into this lifetime and have chosen to be of service is about to start unfolding in a way that has never been seen before. It is for this reason this Awareness says at this time in particular to hold on to the knowledge from within of who and what you are, for you are Beings of Light, you are Beings of High Consciousness, and you are the beings that express the great hope of that which lies ahead, that which is Ascension, that which is the shift in consciousness that is the point of the purpose of coming onto this plane in the first place. This Awareness is complete with the first part of this discussion.

SWIMMING IN A SEA OF DESPAIR

Questioner: (Thank you). That definitely helps to explain. There is one other part related, "The heavy depression, sadness, and weepiness experienced; could this also be related to a sense of frustration or an uneasiness regarding what is to come?"

Cosmic Awareness: This is partially the case, but what is also seen by this Awareness and further to what It was discussing of the darkness in which each of the Light Workers is shining, each of the Wanderers is a beacon within, is also an energetic denseness of vibrations and frequency. This dense oppressive energy that those of the Light are finding themselves in right now is extremely difficult to endure. It is not only oppressive, it is crushing in nature because of the way things still are, where those who have the highest and deepest level of commitment to spreading light and love into this physical universe and of assisting the evolutionary process of Ascension; experiencing this oppressive, crushing energy is extremely difficult.

It's a paradox: The Timing is still off

Thus it is that those who experience this are indeed those who are here to be of assistance at this time. It is almost a paradox, for those who are suffering the most have also the most to offer, but the timing is still off. It must be recognized that there is a timing to these events as well. Those who are still caught up in the illusion of life and those who therefore support collective consciousness as it is known by the majority, do not feel this oppression as much as those enlightened beings that are still unconscious to their depth. Therefore the experiences they are having may not be understood completely and totally and they are simply beset by the experiences of depression and despair, of an oppression so deep that they can barely put voice to what they are experiencing.

Many Light Worker have not fully awoken to the Total Grandeur of their own Being

It must also be understood that even though this Awareness has been speaking of the Light Workers, the Wanderers who have chosen to be here at this time -- even those who are Wanderers or Light Workers have not themselves fully awoken to the total grandeur of their own being. Often this is something sensed within themselves but it is hard to put it into words, especially when one is swimming in a sea of despair, of oppressive energies so thick that they choke the individual, and they drag the individual deeper into the oppression. This is the situation that many of the Light Workers are experiencing at this time. They have a sense of things; they may even be party to knowledge of what is unfolding around them, and yet on the daily level they must still endure the oppressive energies they find themselves in.

The Powers that Be Fear the Light Workers

It is in this contradiction of an inner knowing of self and purpose and the outer experiencing of the events of one's life, when one does not have a support network to rely on to explain what is going on that will give the emotional and mental and spiritual support needed at this time, that the journey then becomes a very intense one and a very difficult one. It must be understood and recognized that those in charge, those who are the controllers of this present physical reality also are aware of what is coming and they are desperate to maintain power and control. They see their own existence jeopardized with the awakening of too many of the Light Workers, and the spreading of consciousness that will elevate many into the higher realms of consciousness. Therefore, there is a strong and concerted effort at this time to resist the advancement of the light.

It is a desperation that they themselves are also experiencing, for they know that their own existences are also at stake here, and that which they have so long dominated and been in charge of is in jeopardy of slipping away. Therefore, the efforts of the Elite are desperate efforts at this time, and this must be remembered as well. In desperation lies the greatest opportunity to break free, for it is at this time that the Elite, the Controllers, the Hidden Cabal can also make their greatest mistakes, and in those mistakes lie the opportunities for advancement, for breaking free from the chains of oppression, and the weight of the darkness that at this time is so prevalent and so crushing.

These are the most intense of times for that matter and for that reason and these are the very times that those who are the Light Workers, the Wanderers, those who are the Servants of Spirit, have come be most vigilant and committed to, and to hold to the Divine purpose of one's being of why one has come to these times, to these energies. It is easy when one is in isolation to submit to the despair and depression, and yet what this Awareness is saying is to take these same factors and twist them around and see them as indicators: that the reasons why one came are being advanced, are actually starting to occur, and rather than to become totally despairing, to hold that the very events that are so depressing are the very events that show that things are starting to break up, are starting to shift and are starting to change.

Awareness sees the power of the Divine Dream unfolding now

In the holding of patience and hope and faith, one will be lightened of the burdens that are so crushing. In finding others of like-mind and like-spirit, and being part of an organization such as Cosmic Awareness Communications, one can always be reminded and supported that one is on the right track, and that one is moving in the correct direction. This is essential at this time, for this Awareness sees the hope that lies ahead, the glory, and the power of the Divine dream that is even now unfolding. It sees how close now all are to achieving this goal, this dream, this magnificent future, and this profound birth into that which is the New World, the New Way.

Remember this and do not despair

Do not give up hope now, do not despair, and remember that God, Spirit, the Divine is in all, is in every being and is in the very fabric of the events that are unfolding at this time. Hold to this, and remember this and this will hold you and support you and this will make the journey lighter and hopefully easier for those many who are going through such a rough time at this time. This completes the comments on this matter. This Awareness is prepared to move forward.

SOME OF THE SYMPTOMS BEING EXPERIENCED TODAY

Questioner: (Thank you) In addition to this, in More Wind from the Editor, May 2010, the following comment was included: "Here at CAC both Vikki and I have been experiencing some of the symptoms so many of you are also having and have written us about: physical discomforts in the body, forgetfulness and other short-term memory problems, feeling unplugged with a sudden loss of energy, exhaustion and drowsiness, the feeling you could sleep another 10 hours, yet occasionally awakening in a hyper-sort of state etc. This all appears to be related to the changes our physical Earth is going through as 2012 gets closer, and this includes the earthquake energies etc. we somehow are picking up on and feeling on certain levels. Yet, like most of you guys, these are short-lived occurrences and so far as we can, we start the day, remain focused and continue to get the job done, although sometimes belatedly." Do you have a comment on Avaton's observation please?

Cosmic Awareness: They are indeed correct and that many of the Light Workers have also seen this to be so in their lives. The most important thing to remember always is that what is occurring in the greater context of reality, the physical reality that is experienced by those living in the third dimensional plane of existence, is also one that is exhibited at the individual level, at the personal level. While there may be the oppressive energies this Awareness has spoken of, the crushing energies of opposition of the dark energies trying to keep everything the same, trying to keep the status quo static; there is also a breaking apart and a breaking free of the old energies. The breaking apart is that which is being experienced on the different levels of the planet at this time.

Weird Weather and Other Events as Earth Energies Break free

There are the Earth energies that are breaking free, and this is what is exhibiting itself now in the geophysical events of the planet: the earthquakes, the volcanoes, the flooding, and the weird weather conditions. There are those events that are breaking up and breaking free in the social-economic events of the planet, such as the stock market and the decline of jobs and the physical economic conditions many are experiencing. Included in this are such events as the man-made disaster of the Gulf oil spill. Then there is also the personal level of the experiencing of energies breaking up, of shifting energies, and these are felt in a physical way or in ways of reduced energies or stagnant energies.

This accounts for why many are going through physical symptoms at this time, and these symptoms often express themselves in a way that ties in to psychological issues or beliefs that the individual themselves may have at the deeper subconscious levels. It may express itself in the tiredness, exhaustion, and lack of mental clarity that is felt by many as well. This is all indicative of the breaking up of the energies that exist on the planet. This needs to happen for that new energy to be birthed, to find form, and to find expression.

The Hermetic Law: As Above, so Below

Often before the ending of a cycle occurs there is a period of great chaos and upheaval. This death experience is indicative of that which is ending, but it is also the promise of that which lies beyond. Thus, this Awareness recommends that during those periods of personal upheaval where physical ailments, psychological or mental quandaries occur, even emotional jags or emotional crises occurs, to remember that this too is part of the shifting energies of the planet at this time being experienced on a personal level. This is all reflective of the Hermetic Law, "As above, so below." As the cosmos changes and shifts, the change will be felt below on planet Earth. As the greater changes occur on planet Earth in the environment, in the psychological stratas and the emotional levels of the planet, the experiences will also be reflected in one's own personal experience of life.

You must understand True Security does not come from bank accounts, big houses and stocks, it comes from Within

This will also even include the challenges around finances that so many are feeling who are still so tied in to the Orion monetary economic systems. These systems will also collapse, but because so many are still tied into them, and have bought into the beliefs that their security in the future is dependent on their savings and their assets; as things are destroyed, as economic systems collapse, there will be great stress for many who are still tied into the systems themselves, where they think that they must have economic security in order to be safe. The truest security does not come from how large one's bank account is, or how many stocks or bonds one owns, or even how much is physically owned by the individual, be it a big house, several cars or material objects. True security comes from within and it is that realization that one creates their own security, their own safety, and their own abundance.

These are all parts of a new reality that is emerging: the reality of conscious creation, the reality of alignment and attunement to a Greater Source, a Higher Source that will always bring abundance and prosperity. Such is the nature of Spirit itself, that it is abundance and prosperity. The false premise that one is only safe when one has accumulated much material, money, or assets is erroneous, but this is also part of the energies that are being shaken up, sometimes deliberately, sometimes inadvertently. The alchemical statement, "As above so below" will show that the shakeup must occur at the higher levels of society and of civilization, but most definitely will also reflect themselves in the personal experiences of each and every individual.

It's Time to Truly Let Go and Let God!

As Light Workers and Wanderers, it must be remembered that the shakeup is occurring on all of these levels, and one will be challenged economically, physically, mentally, emotionally and spiritually. Even the Light Workers must examine their own beliefs and assumptions, and must be prepared to truly "Let Go and Let God," so that they can be guided forward. The God this Awareness is speaking of is of course the Divine Principle, that which is God Almighty, the Supreme Source and Creator of All, that which each and every being is a reflection of and a part of.

This is how to go through the upheavals at this time, the shifting energies, and the breaking up of form that is occurring on the planet at this time. These energies will intensify and increase in the times ahead and it is for this reason that one must recognize that the breakup is necessary, and is indeed part of the birthing process of that which is to come. It is the ending process, the death process that is being gone through, and there needs to be no fear of this, but a recognition rather, that this is part of that which is the shifting of consciousness and is part of the change and of the Ascension process.

REDUNDANT QUESTIONS ON ASCENSION

(Contracts, Ownerships of Land, Cars etc.)

Questioner: (Thank you) .There are four other questions related to Ascension. A couple of them refer to what you just spoke of, but it puts it in different words. The first one is from Ruth, of Roseburg. She asks, "What will happen to the ownership of homes, cars, land or whatever that are under contract when government fails and our new life begins? Will we be free of contracts and own our own homes, cars etc.? Will the continuous use of the golden White Light for protection build up to be a strong protection for people's homes as well as for themselves? Just wondering. Thank you for your comments."

Cosmic Awareness:

The questions presented by this entity, Ruth of Roseburg, are typical questions that many still are asking and wondering about, and yet in one way this Awareness would say they are questions that support the old way of thinking, the way that has been taught to the majority, a way of conceiving one's reality that is still entrenched in materialism. The thoughts revolve around ownership of land and properties, of houses and things, and of contracts being honored or not honored. That which is coming is nothing short than the complete dissolution of all that is at this time.

There will no longer be governments as such

There will no longer be governments as such. In many of the realities of Ascension there is no need for a government, for enlightened human beings will be in alignment with Spirit, and Spirit will be that which is the highest authority of all, for it is blessed with that which is the Divine Consciousness. The ownership of a house would also be redundant to the needs of Spirit, although it will be possible to manifest a house if one wishes to experience a house and living in a house. The controls that are exhibited at this time by those who own property or own the rights to those properties are no longer those principles that will be held as relevant, for all will have changed, and all will be gone.

No contracts will be valid any longer and no banks will own your house, no corporation will exist

Yet many feel uncomfortable with this, and they wish Ascension to be a continuance of what is already known, but at a higher level. This is vague and inaccurate, for if Ascension is the shifting into Higher Consciousness, then that which was will no longer be, and that which will be is not yet known and will be created at the time, and in the moment. One thing that this Awareness will guarantee is that no contracts will be valid any longer, and no bank will hold the rights over one's property or possessions, and no government will be available for the people or for the corporations, and in fact no corporations will exist, for all will be redundant to the reality that will emerge.

The concept of multiple realities and parallel universes

Saying this, this Awareness has also presented the concept of multiple realities, of many parallel universes coming into existence, and while this Awareness is speaking of the highest level of the shift in consciousness, there are those levels also that may well involve yet the continuance in some way, shape or form of realities that are being experienced at this time. As this Awareness has long been saying, what is more involved here is whether one is moving into higher levels of consciousness which are in alignment with spiritual values and truths, or moving away from higher levels of consciousness into the lower more oppressed levels of consciousness that are guided by the lower forms of consciousness, the lower realities that are separated from Spirit.

A Reality that in no way, shape or form exists at this time
